Tuesday, December 1. 1702.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Nov. 30.

Ratibon, November 20.

IT being propos'd to the Colleges of the Empire to bring into a Resolution the raising of 120000 Men to serve in this War, the College of the Free Cities refus'd their consent, pretending that they had no Instructions to that purpose; and alledging, that the Number propos'd would tend to the Ruin of the Cities, and in 2 Years time render them unable to contribute any thing. But the other 2 Colleges representing to them, that, considering the Danger of protracting this Affair in the present Juncture of things, they thought themselves oblig'd to write to the Emperor, and lay the Blame of this delay on the Free Cities, on Friday last they brought it to this Issue; The Cities belonging to the associated Circles agreed to the raising of 120000 Men, and the others to the levying of but 80000: The Quotas on either Establishment to be proportion'd to the following Repartition for the 10 Circles, which was deliver'd in by the Director the Bishop of Mentz's Minister, viz.

	Horse	Foot
The Electorate of the Rhine	1800	8121
Upper Saxony	3963	8121

From the Hague and Leiden Gazettes, dated Nov. 30.

Ratibon, Nov. 20. The 3 Colleges of the Empire, assembled here in a General Diet, have sign'd a Resolution to levy and maintain, during this War, 120000 Men, with a Clause for keeping up 80000 in Times of Peace: They have likewise agreed to address the Emperor, that he would be pleas'd to acquaint the Circles with this Resolution, and enjoyn them to provide their Contingents without delay, that the Troops may be ready to march either within or out of the Empire at the first Order. The Quotas that are to be furnish'd by the several Circles, are the same as were proportion'd in 1681. viz.

	Horse	Foot
The Electorate of the Rhine	1800	8424
Upper Saxony	3963	8224
Austria	7563	16521
Burgundy	3963	8921
Franconia	2940	5073
Bavaria	2400	4479
Swabia	3963	8121
Upper Rhine	1473	8559
Westphalia	3963	8121
Lower Saxony	3963	8121
	35991	83988

Total 119979

These two French Gazettes make the same Totals as the Dutch Courant, tho' by differing from it in the particular Numbers, their true Total amounts to 120555. Not that we should have thought it worth our while to take the least notice of an Error in Figures, had they not likewise differ'd from that Paper in their Account of the Resolution of the Diet: Which oblig'd us to give them both entire.

The Bavarian Minister has acquainted the Magistrates of this City, that if they'll give him an Assurance, that they will not receive a Garrison of Foreign Troops, they need not fear any Molestation from the Elector. Upon which they have written to the Emperor, to desire him not to send any Troops hither.

From the Amsterdam Courant, dated Dec. 2.

Ratibon, Nov. 23. The Resolution of the three Colleges being presented to the Emperor's Chief Commissioner, he receiv'd it with great Satisfaction, and promis'd to send it by an Express to the Emperor; and that he would second the Petition of this City, to have no Imperial Garrison sent into it. Within a few days the Diet will consider whom to appoint Generalissimo of the Forces of the Empire, and 'tis thought the Markgrave of Bareith, who has the Experience of 30 Campaigns, will have that Honour. The four Imperial Towns of Ausburg, Nuremburg, Ulm and Landau, who have address'd the Emperor to permit them to keep the Trade open with Italy, have sent to the Towns of Hamburg, Lubeck, Bremen, Frankfort, and others; to persuade them to joyn with them; that at the common Charge of them all, they may negotiate this Matter by Agents at Vienna; they endeavour likewise to engage the College of Free Cities to give them some assistance.

From the Harlem Courant, dated Dec. 3.

Cologne, Dec. 1. The States, who are call'd together by the Chapter, will meet here to-morrow or next day, to deliberate on laying a new Subsidy (the old being ready to expire) of 200000 Rixdollars, &c. on this Archbishoprick. The Books and Papers of the Chancery must be remov'd hither from Bonn. Some talk of demanding them by an Imperial Advocatoria; but 'tis fear'd the French will part with them for nothing but Money.

Liege, Nov. 28. To-day the Assembly of the States, who are conven'd by the Emperor's Authority, is to be open'd. Count Sinzendorf arriv'd here yesterday, and has the necessary Instructions for proposing to them the continuing of the Subsidies, &c. The Elector our Prince has summon'd the same States to meet on this day likewise at Dinant, as well to obstruct the Proceedings of the Assembly here, as to demand some extraordinary Subsidies for himself. He threatens the States, if they do not obey his Summons, to treat them as Rebels and Enemies, which does not a little perplex them; and the greatest part of them have resolv'd not to appear either at Liege or Dinant; so that in all likelihood there will be nothing done here; and consequently the Emperor must exact by his Sole Authority such Subsidies, and take such other Measures as he shall find convenient. Mean time some that are known to be in the French Interest, are retir'd, and others have been banish'd from hence.

From the Leiden Gazette, dated Nov. 30.

Frankfort, Nov. 26. The Heer Vander Meer Commissioner from the States General, is gone from hence to Heilbron, to observe the Proceedings of the Circle of Swabia, and endeavour to preserve a good Understanding among the Deputies themselves, and between them and the States General. The last Advices from thence say, That all goes well for the Allies in that Assembly. But as for the Deputies of the Circle of Franconia who met at Neckars-Ulm, they broke up all of a sudden, and are return'd home without doing any thing, except regulating the Winter-Quarters for their own Troops. Tho' 'tis said they will meet again at Nuremburg.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Dec. 2.

Lisbon, Oct. 25. The Amirante of Castile pass'd through this City on the 23d, without stopping, to Belem a League from hence, where he will reside, finding no House here to his conveniency, except one which the Imperial Ambassador had taken for him; but he would not go into that, declaring that the hiring of it, as well as all the other proceedings of that Minister to make it believ'd that there was an Understanding betwixt him and the Imperialists, was done without his participation and consent.
